The Queen City Corvette Gazette is the official newsletter of the Queen City Corvette Club (QCCC), established in 1968, and is electronically published and distributed monthly by volunteers and members of QCCC.. Additional information regarding QCCC is available at our website: www.queencitycorvette.com . QCCC is a non-profit club (501(c)(7)) whose members all share a common appreciation and love of America's Sports Car – the Corvette. Dues and donations are not tax deductible. In addition to various social activities for members, QCCC raises money for and participates with various local charities. We strive to promote exciting, safe and fun ways to enjoy our Corvettes. We hold business meetings on the second Saturday of each month. Our monthly business meeting usually incorporates social time. After an initiation fee of $10.00 per person, club dues are $100 per year to be paid semiannually or annually. These dues go to cover the cost of programs, events, running the club, and subsidizing the cost of our meetings. Club officers and supporting staff serve as volunteers. To become a member of the QUEEN CITY CORVETTE CLUB, you must be at least 21 years of age, own a Corvette and attend at least three (3) monthly business meetings within a six-month period. Come check us out – we love to meet fellow Corvette Enthusiasts! For additional membership information, visit https://queencitycorvette.com/?page_id=330 or contact our Membership Director at membership@queencitycorvette.com . We would love to have you join us for a monthly business meeting. If you can't join us, please WAVE!

QCCC's mailing address is: Queen City Corvette Club, PO Box 574 Paw Creek, NC 28130

~ Paul Mitchell, President

As the year winds down, no one will forget 2020. We are so ready to move out of this year and (hopefully!) get to more normal times next year. But in spite of everything, QCCC has remained active, and in a safe manner. We have had 2 meetings and a few day trips to keep us and our cars in a good mood. We have the November and December meetings planned, and a couple more activities set up. Thank you to all that have participated and enjoyed these times together. We have also welcomed several new members over the past few months, and we are very happy to have them join us. Maybe our quantity of activities and meetings has gone down this year, but the spirit, enthusiasm, and comraderie of QCCC remains very strong.

We will have the November meeting indoors at the VFW in Indian Trail. VP Dick Gwilt has worked with the staff to be certain that we meet all state mandates as to quantity of people and proper distancing. We ask that everyone attending wear masks to protect themselves and others. We will have a fun time, as Social Director Donna Berst has some things planned. I hope to see you there!

Club members will be able to see and order several different styles of hats at the November meeting. These will make great Christmas presents, along with all the other QCCC wearables that the Berst's make available to the club. They took orders for clothing at last month's meeting, and you can review the products on the website and order products now as well. Thanks to Ron and Donna for again putting all this together for us. And the pricing is very reasonable.

We also still have 50th anniversary challenge coins available, plus a few QCCC blankets. And don't forget the limited edition numbered print of QCCC history that is available for $50. All this will be available at the meeting. Again, great Christmas items!

We still have some time to enjoy our cars, but not so nice weather is coming. This is a good time to get in your garage, use some of those great Adams products, and clay, polish, and wax (or ceramic) your car to make it so shiny. It's just part of what we do

Love 'em, drive 'em, cherish 'em. It'll make you and your car smile.

Effective February 1, 2020

Having been with the Hendrick Automotive Group for over 18 years, my career started at City Chevrolet. As the flagship store, we strive to not only represent, but set the benchmark for the culture of the organization. We often say, "City people make City Chevrolet," and that's why I'm excited to not only come back to where I started (my "home") but also to rebuild the City pride in our teammates, customers, vendors, and partners alike.

I'm dedicated to rebuilding the relationship between the Queen City Corvette Club and Rick Hendrick City Chevrolet. Our team is looking forward to further fostering the connection through the mutual support of our organizations. You have my commitment.

VP Report

QCCC had another great month for our members in October!

We started with a member meeting at Victory Event Center on October 10 where we voted in 4 new members. We then went on the Run To The Colors cruise to Shatley Springs on October 18, followed by yet another outdoor event cruise to Table Rock State Park on October 24.

We wrapped up the month with a Car Tech / Detail Day at Billy Boat Exhaust and Dick Gwilt's garages on October 31.

Our next scheduled event is the Corvette Angels Toy Drive at Carolina Place Mall in Pineville on November 7.

Our next member meeting will be at the VFW in Indian Trail on November 14. It's great to be able to get together again - wearing our QCCC masks of course.

CARE AND COMPASSION:

Sue Stickels- continue to keep Sue in your thoughts and prayers as she continues her battle with cancer and healing from her back surgery. She is starting to walk w/o the walker and will be in recovery for 9 months. Cards, emails & notes can be sent to Sue at:

Email is sjstickels@aol.com.

Phone- 704-564-0015

Al Kessel- I spoke with Al on Saturday and he provided me with the following update: I have had (6) 40 hour chemos, (5) 30 minute radiation treatments, 4 week vacation from treatments. Latest scan says the cancer has not shrunk enough to operate. So I start a different chemo of (3) hours twice a month for 3 months and then take another scan and see what happens. I want to thank the club for all the emails, cards, and prayers I have received.

Please continue to keep Al & Gerri in your prayers as they go through this treatment process.

Phone: 704-280-0858

Norm Lontz- Continue to pray for Norm as he fights Melanoma on top of his head. He is continuing with monthly treatments. Norm has had 3 spots of Melanoma on top of his head.

Email: nllontz@aol.com

Phone: 704-701-4129

Pat Motta- Pat is suffering from metastatic Breast Cancer. She was diagnosed in early March and has suffered with this since 2012. Prayers are most welcome.

As Bob stated: "we really need a miracle here".

Cards, Emails, and notes are also welcome.

Email: ramrace@aol.com

ADDRESS: 12725 Green Ashe Drive Huntersville 28078

Thank you for all your support.

Mark Fisher- Please pray for Mark as he lost his leg due to a bad infection. He is doing real good and has already come to a QCCC Social Event. Please send him an Email or a Get Well card. His address is as follows;

Mark Fisher

601 East Campbell Avenue

Salisbury, NC. 28146

Marge Jungman- resting at home from heart surgery. She is getting stronger every day and is looking forward to some QCCC Social Events. She sends her THANKS to all the QCCC Members that held her up in prayer and lifted her spirit in this stressful time. Please send cards and emails to:

Marge Jungmann

QCCC 2020 Car Show and Charities

November Car Show and Charity Update

The 2021 QCCC Corvette Show is already in it's planning stages. We have our first car show meeting with Hendrick and City Chevrolet planned for January. If you have any suggestions for the 2021 show please let me know and we will work with you on the issues. If you would like to become more involved in the show please let me know as well. We are going to have bigger and better things happen this year as we have to make up for this past year.

Tommy Loftin

QCCC Charity Update

November is the month that the Charity Committee presents the membership with the 2021 charity proposal. As you may know the charity money comes from the car show and the past years show is the following years charity contribution. Since we did not have a car show in 2020, we have a smaller amount of charity money to carry forward. The Charity Committee recognizes this and we have chosen to only have one charity for 2021. This will allow the charity to have a larger monetary donation from QCCC so they can carry out their community needs.

The 2021 charity proposal to the QCCC membership is Wings of Eagles Ranch. This is the 4TH year we have supported them and we have become very close to this organization. This past year we have had a cruise in and a work day which many of you have participated in. We would like to keep them as our primary charity and do even more things with them this coming year.

The Charity Committee has approved this as well as the Board of Directors and it is now time for the membership approval.

Tommy & Brenda Loftin

National Corvette Museum

As I am sure you have noticed, Barb and I are still maintaining our social distancing and self-quarantining. Maybe we are just being overly cautious and missing out on some great QCCC events and runs but I am concerned about what I am seeing on Facebook. I do wish I could see everyone wearing a mask on those outings. I know, I know, you can't eat with a mask on but when up and around and conversing, please take care. We already have many of our members fighting illnesses and we don't need more. Please folks, do be careful.

You probably have already read about the new Motorsports Park Executive Director coming on board. Greg Waldran has a most interesting career background which I will reserve an opinion on and let his leadership play out. A whole new approach may be just what is needed to get the MSP on a profitable footing. Matt Busby has been promoted to MSP General Manager, as he well deserves to be. Greg will come on board the first of the year to work with Mitch Wright until he retires in June 2021.

I hope you are including the NCM in your charitable giving plan for this year. With the loss of attendance due to the pandemic, every dollar donated helps. And as always, your donations are tax deductible. Plus, if you want to upgrade your membership to a lifetime member, the entire $1,500.00 can be written off as a charitable donation. Furthermore, if you don't want to bite it all off at once, there are payment plans that allow you to pay it over several months. It makes a nice Christmas present.

Have you been keeping up with all the raffles from the museum? A lot of really neat C8 Corvettes are being raffled off and the new system of purchasing a ticket makes it a simple process. If it's so simple, why haven't I won?

I see the enthusiast's section at the museum is next on the list for renovation. I am hoping the mural of the panoramic view of the Smokey Mountains with QCCC in the foreground survives. That mural has been on display for years and I feel it should be part of the foundation of the area. Just saying.

Wishing everyone a Happy Thanksgiving and a safe family gathering if that is part of your plans. Whatever your plans may be, be safe, be happy and be thankful.

More "Adventures" from QCCC of Decades Past

The wheels go round and round

Last month we discussed the Kelsey Hayes quick knock-off wheel as possibly the best wheel that Corvette had. Let's clarify that it, the best looking and the most unique. The fact that they can spin off and the daintiest nature of having to beat them on only with a lead hammer keeps them from being the best wheel.

Now let's look at the next generation and the rally wheel. The strange path this wheel took is interesting. First we have to talk about the 67 Corvette. Strange as seems the 67 which in big block form is thought by many to be the best Corvette ever, was not in GM plans to be built. The Mako Shark designed by Bill Mitchell was to debut as the 67 model. Continuing problems pushed GM to decide what to do as the 68 was not going to be able to make time deadlines. GM then turned to the 66. They had all they needed to make the 67, same frame, interior ready to go with improvements and the engines were already being developed. So the 67 which was never planned was rushed thru with some changes. Like the early C-3s the 67 was given a special hood for the big block motor.

Wheels made available--- first they took the knock-off from the 66 and removed the 3 bar spinner. In its place was a sissy little piece like the center of a hubcap. Before clipping this on you could tighten the lug bolts then put the new piece on. End result you had a stupid looking wheel that had the design of the 64-66 knock-off but it was not a knock-off. This wheel ended up not being functional as originally meant for racing. Now for $230 less you could have had the first edition of the rally wheel. It was not much of a wheel with a skinny little trim ring a center cap that looked like it was designed after pasties you would see in the burlesque theaters of long ago. In the end only 720 of the 22940 sixty seven Corvettes were ordered with the aluminum wheels. At least the 67 stock hubcap was seen to sell enough to keep the engineers pursuing the rally wheel.

The rally wheel began in 68 and was available on any C-3 that had stock rims. It is so simple yet takes great advantage of the chrome reflection that makes it look more expensive and complex than it really is. The outer trim ring is 3 to 4 inches deep and solid chrome that polishes up so that it reflects in 360 degrees. They are easy to pop off so that you may paint the steel wheel and touch up when needed. The center cap has ridges with black between them. They would be hard to restore but they were available from GM for years and cheap enough to replace if need be. The trim rings held on by 3 clips and it was wise not to take them on and off a lot as the spring clips would lose their tension and not hold tightly. They were very popular until the 76 model. At this time the aluminum slotted polished wheel became popular. This wheel was made in Mexico and was in the showrooms as an upgrade to the base rally. However they had a strike down there for over a year and the slotted wheels were not available. Of course Dollar Bill Ingram had a set on his 77, that car was hot, black with oyster interior and the slotted wheels. A DUD to STUD moment for sure. So the rally wheel for me is number one, cheap, no tire mounting issues, great reflective value, easy to clean. Available from 1968 thru 1982 as the stock wheel. Slotted polished aluminum wheels were the option from $299 in 1976 to $485 in 1982.

More "Adventures" from QCCC of Decades Past

Now we have first and second place filled what is in third place. From 84 to 96 none qualify. This was the decade plus of what I call the pizza pan wheels. Wheels need depth for the DUD to STUD pathway. GM determined if you make the wheel flat then there is less drag on the wind so you go faster but don't stop as everyone will see your ugly wheels. I should add that I had knock-offs on my 63 coupe, and rally wheels on my 68,70,74,71, and pizza pans on my 87 and 85. So next we find that the direction wheels were going was to expose what is behind the wheel plus they figured out this also helps them cool brake parts etc. Now it was fashionable to expose the calipers and paint them various colors. Therefore I think the C-6 Chrome Z06 is a great looking wheel. Five spokes all with two piece bars and an opening in them. These gave a lot of reflective chrome yet you could see the caliper. I found these wheels were fairly easy to clean all the way thru as 5 spokes allow you to brush the inner part of the wheel. At first I did not like them since the chrome was just on the edges. However when I got a 2010 Camaro, I sent the wheels to California and they were chrome all the way thru making just a great look. Then I found as a daily driver that every week they got dirty and I had to clean the chrome all the way thru, that was quite a chore. Giving this wheel a run for the money as the number three best would be the chrome C-7 wheel which is very close to the C-6 chrome wheel on the ZR-1. This wheel has a lot of reflective chrome value but the drawback on this wheel is all the spokes to clean with very little access to the back half of the rim. You almost have to take the wheel off to get the backside clean. However when this wheel is clean (when it came off the truck at the dealership) it is a top 3. (I had 2 C-6's, and 2 C-7s) I am finding out that as I age, that when anyone asks when I cleaned the back half of my wheels that they get the same answer when my dentist asks when was the last time your teeth were flossed? Of course the answer is the last time I was in her office and she did it. The wheels were last cleaned before they loaded them on the delivery truck.

So there you have it. You now know what makes you from a DUD to a STUD. It is all about the roundy rounds. So get your wallet out and update your rims. I will attach some photos so you can see easily DUD to STUD progress, then you may look at your Corvette to see if you need to upgrade.

I know many of us in the 70's and 80's always were polishing our rims. Now that we can afford nice rims GM is finally putting some nice choices out there. QCCC in the old days was chrome it or cram it. The hardest part today in polishing rims is getting down there and the getting back up. Do your rims make you a Stud or a Dud?

Great memories of the cars of QCCC and the roundy rounds.
